

Norman Leonard Bacon

I was born November 3, 1940, in Heber City, Utah, son of Leonard and Mary Rasband Bacon.

I attended the Central School and graduated from Wasatch High in 1959. That summer I began my pre-dentistry studies at Brigham Young University and continued in school until I left in July 1961 to fulfill a mission in the Southern States Mission. I returned home in July 1963.

On September 6, 1963, I married Lu Ann Montgomery, daughter of John Neal and Norma Moulton Montgomery, in the Salt Lake Temple. I finished my last year of pre-dent at the Y and received my dental training at Northwestern University in Chicago from 1964-1968.

In August, 1968, I established a dental practice in Mesa, Arizona and continue to practice there.

We have five children. Mrs. Robert C. (Ja Neal) Freeman, who will graduate from B.Y.U. in 1986 in accounting. Mrs. David P. (Maria) Hiatt, who will receive her A.S. degree from Utah Technical Institute in 1986 in Legal Assisting. There are three sons, Bradley Alan, Keith Aaron and Jared Michael.

In the church I have served in an Elder's Quorum presidency, been a stake missionary, stake athletic director, high councilman, and a bishop's counselor twice.

Dear Dr. Green:

I'm sorry we have been so long in getting this to you. I had it written before our second marriage in April but then it got buried and forgotten.

We would appreciate getting the picture back if that is possible. Thanks.
